AUTO TAG FUNDS HELD BY DOYAL FROM TREASURY

$94,000 Kept by Revenue Commission Contrary to Custom; Operating in Law, Hamilton Says.

TALMADGE PLANS IN MYSTERY MIRE

Governor Some Time Ago Said There May Be Ways of Routing Funds' by Treasurer for '36 Use

The mystery of the state's financial future, due to Governor Talmadge's operation without an appropriation bill, became deeper yesterday when it was learned that automobile license tag fees, ordinarily paid into the treasury as they are collected, are being held, temporarily, at least, by the state revenue commission, which collects them.

Admitting that the former practice of making immediate payments to the treasury had been abandoned, Chairman Paul H. Doyal, of the revenue commission, said that the new system was adopted solely for book-keeping purposes. However, it was understood that the system was not launched until two or three days after January 1 and that about $18,000 of the approximately $110,000 already collected for license tags was placed in the treasury. The balance, approximately $94,000, is being held by the commission.

State Treasurer George B. Hamilton said that the revenue commission was following the law in its handling of the tag sale income.

Law Is Cited.

"The law does not require the commission to turn its collections into the treasury until 30 days after date of the collections," the state treasurer said.

Mr. Hamilton concurred in the statement of the revenue commission head that in previous years the money was deposited with the treasury as soon as it was collected.

"I do not know the reason for the change," he declared. "As long as the law is being complied with I am satisfied."

Governor Talmadge yesterday continued his policy of silence regarding his plans for future operations and could not be learned whether or not the action of the revenue commission was in compliance with an order or will of the governor. It was recalled that Talmadge some time ago said that "there may be ways of routing money around the state treasury."

Key Probe Veto Seen.

Action last night was regarded as being a complete and definite answer under the circumstances, and it was believed that Mayor Key will veto a bill providing no provision for establishment of a special council committee of five members to investigate the grand jury complaints. The measure is on his desk, and under the law he must act today. There was considerable conjecture last night as to whether a committee would be initiated to override the veto in the event that Key disapproves the measure.

Judge Prystalski, whose name had been mentioned in the newspaper, has been appointed to the circuit court hearing on the case.

Committee members promised that every facility will be utilized to make the investigation as complete as humanly possible and swift reprisals to those found guilty of irregularities.

The Governor's friends are known to feel that he believes a great deal of the regulations regarding the handling of "red tape" and are confident that he will stand by the sit-

Cuban Youth Seized; $25,000 Ransom Paid

HAVANA, Jan. 13.—(UP)—A small son of Paulino Gorostiza was kidnapped today and held for $35,000 ransom, half of which has been paid, it was learned.

The kidnappers threatened to kill the youth unless $35,000 was paid within four hours. The family delivered $25,000 with the time limit and agreed to pay balance tonight, it was disclosed.

Police hoped to trap the kidnappers when they received the second payment but declined to discuss the case.

New Deal Official Forecasts U. S. Will Fulfill Promises of Old AAA

7-Point Program Adopted Last Week by Farm Leaders Expected To Get Administration Support in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—High administration quarters forecast today that under plans now held by the government it would be possible to achieve both the major results and fulfill the ultimate aims of the now-wrecked AAA.

Speaking privately, a New Deal chief argued that approval by Congress of the principles of the seven-point program adopted by 100 farm leaders here Saturday, with the major emphasis on soil conservation rather than production control, would virtually enable the carrying out of present plans for AAA's future.

New indications appeared meanwhile, however, of a split between some organized farm groups and administration leaders over an export subsidy. President Roosevelt has frowned on such a plan. Several farm organizations plan to press it when the general program reaches Congress.

Other developments on the farm front included:

1. Arrival in Washington of H. K. Tolley, termed by some as a "soil wizard." The former assistant AAA administrator was recalled from California by farm officials.

POLICE BODY PLANS PROBE OF CHARGES

Officers Warned That Drinking Means Firing; Lieutenants Are Warned

Use of intoxicants except in their own home will cost policemen their jobs in the future and lieutenants in whose territory officers are intoxicated while on duty will be subject to suspension under a decree of the police committee last night as that body launched a sweeping and exhaustive probe of grand jury charges against the department.

Although no definite action was taken in the probe last night Solicitor General A. Boykin Thomas A. Moye, foreman, and W. G. Rains, secretary of the November grand jury which criticized severely various departmental practices, were invited to appear and give testimony and information to the committee at a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening Christopher G. King, who had slain Attorney Christopher G. King, was invited to appear and give testimony and information to the committee at a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. "I hope this will promote enough ballyhoo to prove my point—that there have been no legal tax receiverships or foreclosures in Cook county since 1910. I did it as a soldier, not as a murderer."

A rampage turned the circuit courtroom into a field of shambles, pushing, fighting, shouting. Judge Prystalski ruled against him in a minor law suit. Keogh drew a pistol. He fired a bullet into the heart of Kinney, 54-year-old lawyer who represented an insurance firm that had obtained a judgment against him.

Judge Prystalski crawled to his chambers on hands and knees. Most of the 35 panels in the courtroom screamed for safety. Attorneys S. E. Baranski and Jacob Legion Tamm and Deputy Sheriff John Ryan stepped forward with Keogh. They wrestled the pistol from him. A ring on Tamm's finger opened a long gash on Keogh's cheek as he struck him.

Keogh turned the weapon on the scene as soon as the fire was reported and flagged the Florida Special three minutes before the wall collapsed.

The fire destroyed 90 tons of rubber stored in the two-story building and created fumes and smoke which endangered fire fighters and made it impossible to see more than three feet.

A dispatcher was sent to the scene to reveal the cause of death, but enough evidence had not been secured to prove conclusively why Mrs. Miller died. I will give any further assistance to investigating authorities that may be asked."

Detective Poole uncovered several startling angles in the case in an investigation conducted late Sunday night.

The first was set for trial on April 3.

The government has not decided whether it will not prosecute its charges against the pair, but is expected to announce decision some time this week.

Kelly said if the federal case is not pressed, Harvey and Smith probably will be tried on today's indictment in Rome.

Harvey and Smith were given five years each on conviction in federal court.

Since then, there have been a series of court moves in the case, in which

DECATUR RESIDENTS PLAN BOND CAMPAIGN

Committee To Be Formed
Tonight Seeking Passage of $80,000 Issue.

A bond campaign committee will be formed by the citizens of Decatur at a mass meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the DeKalb county courthouse.

Judge Frank Guess, chairman of the 1935 bond committee, issued the call, in order that a new group may be organized to aid in raising the $80,000 bond issue which will be voted on by Decatur residents February 14.

A chairman and other officers of the new committee will be elected tonight, it was announced.

The bond issue was voted at an election last year, but because of legal technicalities city officials asked that it be invalidated so that no difficulties would be experienced in obtaining WPA funds for civic improvements.

The bond issue will include $40,000 for schools, $30,000 for development of the water system, and $10,000 for sewer improvements. This sum of $80,000 will be augmented by a WPA grant of $141,000, if the election favors the campaign. If the election carries the bonds over, the money will be used to erect a new school building on Erie avenue in the Clairmont park section; to double the size of the Fifth Avenue school on the south side of Decatur; to add additional rooms to the Winnona Park school on the east side of the city; and to make necessary improvements in other grammar schools, high schools, and the Boys' and Girls' High schools.

Registration books are now open and will remain open until the afternoon of February 4. The city commission yesterday called attention to the fact that all citizens must have paid the 1936 poll tax before they can qualify to vote February 14.

All male voters are required to pay the poll tax and women are also registered at the courthouse for state and county elections also have to pay it. But women who are not registered can vote in the bond election without its payment. Citizens are required to place their names on the city of Decatur registration lists before they will be able to vote on the bonds issue. They must be properly qualified before February 4.

There is no standard size and weight for a bar of silver. However, it generally approximates the size of an ordinary building brick.

FAIRBANKS, PICKFORD MARRIAGE DISSOLVED

Doug' and Mary Formally Divorced While Seated Together at Meet.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—(AP)—

Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks were formally dissolved late today while they sat together at a movie business conference.

Judge Dudley Valentine signed the final decree papers as the two film stars were meeting with other officials at the United Artists studio.

"Doug," who returned from England only yesterday, attended the conference as a producer. There he met Miss Pickford, whom he had not seen for nearly 18 months.

Miss Pickford heads a company which also is a unit in the United Artists system.

She was there first.

Then Fairbanks entered the conference room he crossed directly to her, and extended his hand. She took it, smiled, and they began to talk as casually and amiably as though he had been gone for only a week-end.

A representative said they chatted in a "very friendly" manner until the business session was called.

Fairbanks is working out details of a picture based on the travels of Marco Polo, from Italy to the court of Kublai Khan. He hopes to produce it this year, he said.

So far, both Miss Pickford and Fairbanks have declined to discuss their personal affairs in general and the romantic aspects of them in particular.

The actress received an interlocutory decree of divorce from Superior Judge Ben R. Lindsey, January 10, 1935. She was not eligible for her final decree until today, however, inasmuch as the recorder's office was closed over the week-end.

Her attorney filed the final papers and had them signed today.

ago they caught me lighting a fire under a still and give me 10 months time, judge."

Traffic was heavy in the neighborhood of the still that the federal agents raided Sunday. Along with the deacon, the agents appeared in court with:

Eddie Gravitt, well known in mid-district gambling circles.

Dorley Middlebrooks, who knew nothing of the existence of the still.

Jimmie Wallace, who was tending his rabbit traps in the neighborhood and said that he just happened along with an empty pint bottle in his hand.

Ralph Gibbs, who was helping Wallace with the rabbit traps and just happened to have a pint bottle in his hand.

J. B. Foster, who was out looking for a stray cow when the agents arrested him, he said the still.

Commissioner Griffith looked up from the typewriter at which he had been typing the deacon's statement.

"Well, judge, that's right. I remember once about seven or eight years Deacon meeting because of our local problems," Evans said. "However, we want you to know that we are with you for anything you want."

The Governor told the delegation that he was sorry the date conflicted with the primary.

"We want all real democrats who can attend to be at the Macon meeting," Talmadge said. "And we want all to know that they won't need any tickets."

MOTHER OF HEIRESS
MAY ESCAPE TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—District Attorney Mathew Brady announced definitely today that his office would not initiate criminal proceedings against those responsible for the sterilization operation performed on Ann Cooper Hewitt, 21-year-old

Miss Hewitt, who has sued her socially prominent mother and two physicians for $500,000, previously claimed to sign a mayhem complaint.

Brady also said he could see no reason for questioning Miss Hewitt, who charged that her mother, Mrs. Mary Cooper Hewitt, McCarter, dropped her into the operation in a plot to deprive her of her inheritance.

Barrett in Race.

It was understood, however, that Thompson will be in the race for one of the two county commission posts.

Ellis Barrett, mayor pro tem, has definitely thrown his hat into the ring for one of the positions.

Neither Deckner nor George Haney,

former deputy clerk with Summons, has made up his mind as to his candidacy. It was regarded as certain, however, that Councilman Deckner will enter the race, while it is doubtful that Haney, who has held a ticket in opposition to Simons, A. C. Cooper, lawyer, has announced for the clerkship but has not qualified with Hewitt

Chambers, secretary of the Fulton democratic executive committee.

"Mott" Aldredge paid his fee yesterday because it was the thirteenth day of the month, he said.

way conductor for 31 years, feels the number 13 is lucky for him. He made his first run as a conductor on May 13, 1907, and his daughter, Louise, was born on October 13, 1909.

He is regarded as a strong candidate in the race for sheriff. His entrance brought the number of candidates for this position to three, for both Sheriff James L. Lowry and

Cal Cates, county policeman, have already qualified.

Bill Turner, who has been planning to jail for sheriff also, but has not paid his fee for qualification. It was considered possible Turner will not make the race. He said he did not make up his mind definitely.

Sheriff Lowry will have held the office for 20 years at the end of 1936.

To Cover County.

"We intend to cover the county in our campaign as well as we can this year, but we leave the county's work to do in addition to our campaign,"

Lowry's chief deputy, Emmett Quinn, said yesterday. "We will see every one we can during our spare time."

Cal Cates, who has been a county policeman for 16 years, declared in his formal announcement that, if elected,

"he will change the sheriff's office

from a business-serving bureau to a law enforcement agency." Aldredge promises efficiency and service, should he be elected.

Harriet, who is president of the Fulton County Bar Association and a member of the county democratic executive committee, issued the following statement against Judge Hattcock:

"In offering myself and services,

I hereby pledge to the people of this county that my term of office shall be dedicated to the common understanding of the problem of the people coming before the municipal court and such other court that a judge of this court presides. I will never allow my personal beliefs or feelings to become fanatical on any subject, whether it be liquor or religion."

Promises Fairness.

He asserted he would give fair and impartial hearings to everyone before him and would render "judgment based on a modern and liberal interpretation of the law, mixed with a sense of justice to meet present-day changes."

W. Carlton Binns, prominently mentioned as an opponent of Judge Thomas H. Jeffries for county ordinary,

said yesterday he had not made up his mind one way or the other as to whether he will run.

No new opposition for other officiholders has been brought out but it is expected several new candidates will be in the race before February 8, the closing date.

"Jockeying" Privately.

Jockeying for position in various county races featured Fulton's politics yesterday. Aldredge paid his entry fee as a candidate for sheriff and
A. J. Hartley, lawyer, announced in opposition to Judge T. O. Hatchcock for one of the two municipal court posts.

Action in the open was little yesterday,
but possible candidates in opposition to the incumbents of important offices were busy as bees attempting to maneuver themselves an advantage.

The race for clerk of the superior court lost a rumored candidate when Ernest Rogers, newspaperman, Anton J. W. Simmons.

No formal announcements of candidates have come yet from Schley Thompson, mentioned as a candidate for county commissioner, nor from Councilman Ed G. Deckner, whose name figures as an opponent for Clerk Simmons.

EASTMAN URGES RULE OF WATER TRANSPORT

Co-Ordinator Cites Value of U. S. Regulation in Florida Address.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 13.—(UP)—Government regulation of water transportation is just as necessary, both for the public good and for industry, as was the regulation of rail and motor carriers, Joseph E. Eastman, federal co-ordinator of transportation, told the second annual convention of the Association of Marine Terminal Operators here today.

The government finds it necessary, he said, to improve transportation conditions throughout the country and to do this it must regulate the railroads but "must start underground with the pipe lines, take a good view of the highways, look out on the water and end up in the air."

Motor carriers, he said, followed the footsteps of the railroads. First they opposed regulation but later "they saw, as the railroads had seen, the conditions within their industry were driving into deregulation and could be improved by a reasonable exercise of the authority of the government."

Water lines now face the same question, Eastman declared. He told of legislation to be considered by Congress and predicted that the water transportation industry would find the new laws beneficial.

Eastman addressed an assembly which J. Alvin Crothers, Camden, N. J., president of the association, said represented $750,000,000 worth of property.

CANDIDATES NAMED

Emory Selects Beck Award Contests.

Nelson Spratt, of Atlanta, and James Tolbert, of Columbus, were selected yesterday as Emory University's candidates for the Lewis H. Beck scholarship for 1936.

Candidates are selected from graduate students at Georgia colleges having chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, national emblem of the college. The scholarship award will be made in February by the Beck Foundation committee.

Tolbert is an assistant instructor in English at Emory and Spratt is a biology laboratory instructor, both taking graduate work.

The scholarship, providing $2,000 a year for two years with the possibility of a third year if the student's work warrants it, is given annually by the foundation as a memorial to the late Lewis H. Beck. Burness Moore, student at Emory University, won the scholarship in 1935 and Miss Virginia Heard, Agnes Scott student, received the award the previous year.

Brewer Slain by Mate.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Malita Powell Rovig, 50, former opera singer, fatally wounded her husband, Charles H. Rovig, 53, liquor firm manager, and then killed herself at their apartment today. Before he died Rovig told Detective Lieutenant George Sheldon his wife accused him of associating with other women. Rovig denied the charge.

New Police Committee Meets for First 1936 Session

City council's new police committee are shown above as they assembled last night at the police station for a reorganization meeting. The members are, left to right, H. M. Rantin, J. Allen Couch and W. H. Joyner, standing, and G. Dan Bridges and Alvin L. Richards, seated. Only Bridges and Richards remain from the 1935 police committee.

rule directly up to the 12 field lieutenants in charge of the three watches.

"The lieutenants can enforce the anti-drinking rules if they want to," Couch said. "We have been talking it over with them. Put them on the spot, and the men will help them."

The committee voted the Couch move without dissent after a lengthy discussion.

Bridges then elicited unanimous backing for his announced policy of allowing members fired for liquor to return.

The regular meeting of the committee will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the police station.

Chairman Bridges then took up the grand jury charges, asserting that he wants to delve to the very bottom of every complaint.

Charges Reviewed.

Councilman Alvin Richards then read each charge and the grand jury, including those alluding to policemen witnessing the pay-off in lottery and gambling games; protection of liquor dealers; inefficiency and incompetency and lack of discipline and morale.

The complaint that Chief of Police N. Sturdivant turned three cars back to Ralph Overton, allowed by the grand jury to be a well-known bootlegger, will be probed at Thursday night's session. Sturdivant told the committee that he had not ordered the return of any one of the cars. Records and witnesses will be called before the committee in its quiz.

Bridges then asked Sturdivant to take whatever steps are necessary to see that the car is returned to its original owner.

"I did not say anything about this matter until the grand jury mentioned it," Sturdivant said. "However, I doubt the authority of the city to hold the cars under the evidence. I think this committee should get to the bottom of the whole thing."

Bridges then asked Sturdivant to take whatever steps are necessary to see that the car is returned to its original owner.

ATLANTA, GA., JAN. 14, 1936.

IN LOUISIANA
With the "Kingfish" minus in the Louisiana political controversy which will come to a climax with the state's primaries today, it might be thought that the campaign would be comparatively mild, but such has not been the case.

As the zero hour approaches, candidates are shouting defiance with the vocal powers of a Missouri hog caller, and hurling at each other such epithets as "liars, thieves, murderers, assassins, eels,
snakes, crooks and hoodlums."

Governor O. K. Allen, natural
"heir" to leadership in the Long forces, is directing the fight for re-election of a complete state ticket composed of Long adherents, under the slogan of: "Complete the work of Huey Long."

Congressman Dear, candidate for governor against the Long faction's man, leader of the "antis" or home-rule democratic faction, is seeking to defeat the machine outfit by demands for overthrow of the "dictatorship," repeal of obnoxious laws and restoration of home rule and respect of the citizenship of other states, as well as officials of the federal government.

The Dear speakers never mention the name of Long, while the Allen faction shuns his name on high and point to his tomb and "martyrdom" in every speech, and attempts are made to stir audiences to the frenzy of a rural "camp meeting."

One of the most effective of the "stump speakers" is the Rev. Gerald K. Smith, organizer of the "share-our-wealth" societies sponsored by the late senator, who tours
the state promising each household the equivalent of $5,000 through operation of "share-our-wealth" principles. He lauds Huey "as the only president of the United States who was assassinated before he became president."

Earl, younger brother of the late Huey, running for lieutenant governor behind Judge Richard W. Leche, tries to imitate Huey on the stump, but he is said to "fall as far short as a humorist trying to imitate the late Will Rogers."

Even Huey's 17-year-old son, Russell, has been brought to the stump, but he has little to remind anyone of Huey. Governor Allen uses Huey's bodyguard and talks dictatorial language, but no one can imitate the inimitable.

Hundred special policemen,
wearing badges of white ribbons, have been sworn in for duty at the polls in New Orleans today, and Governor Allen has said he would call out the militia "if the election officials didn't do right." If by "right" he means the nomination of his candidates, irrespective of the ballots cast, there may be trouble in the Crescent City.

EXPOSING A MYTH
Seldom has a myth been as thoroughly exposed as in the case of the claims of the Townsends that their "cause" was sweeping the country and gaining the support of constantly growing millions.

Under the acid test of an "Americas Speaks" survey, it is shown that while 89 per cent of the people of the country favor old age pensions in some form, only 3.8 per cent approve of the Townsend plan.

At last, this fat-fetched scheme, calling for the payment of $200 monthly to each person over 65 years of age, is impractical both as to its workings and in the suggested manner in which the many billions necessary for its operation shall be raised.

The payment of a flat sum to the indigent aged, regardless of physical condition or station in life, would bring widespread dissatisfaction and injustice. To some $200 a month would represent undreamed-of wealth, while to others, who would be forced to relinquish much larger earned incomes, it would mean greater privation than they had ever known.

The "Americas Speaks" survey has conclusively and convincingly answered the claims of strength by the Townsends, and it is to be hoped that those who supported the movement—timorous and vacillating politicians, deluded persons of advanced age, and schemers who, either in hope of eventual financial reward or for the purpose of gaining undeserved publicity—will realize that no good and only harm can come from the continued agitation of the proposal.

CUBA CHOOSES WELL

The selection of Miguel Mariano Gomez as president of Cuba, with every province on the island giving him a substantial majority, augurs well for a continuance of the peace and economic progress experienced by the island republic during the past few months.

During his regime as mayor of Havana—a post second in island politics only to the presidency—Gomez built up a wide and devoted personal following. Representative of the highest type of Castilian leadership, he proved not only politically astute but scrupulously honest
—the latter characteristic standing out in bold relief against the open and deliberate graft of the Machado administration.

Gomez was chosen as the coalition candidate against two former presidents—General Mario Menocal and Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

Had either of these former stormy petrels of Cuban politics been elected it is certain that factional strife would have flamed anew, but with Gomez having not established himself as the candidate of any particular party, his selection will tend to allay friction and discontent.

A further cause for belief that the island will remain peaceful is that it will not be long before
"zafra," the harvesting and grinding of the sugar cane, and that as a result the "macheteros," who form the rank and file of most of the uprisings in Cuba, will be busy for three or four months cutting cane and making enough money to supply their simple pleasures.

Because of his increased pay, the "machetero" will this year be able to afford things he has had to go without during the privation years of the past decade—such things as a bit of rum, a bright shirt and a few remembrances for his lady love. That is all that he needs to make him happy—and revolutionary movements do not prosper in the ranks of happy men.

So at least until the Gomez administration is established in office;
there is every promise for peace in the island republic—with the United States being a chief beneficiary.

Before our sugar tariff bankrupted Cuba, the people of the island bought more than $500,000,000 worth of American goods annually. Then came the crash and these imports dropped to considerably less than $100,000,000. The signing last March of trade agreements between the United States and Cuba has served to rehabilitate the trade between the two countries, with the increased sales of sugar in America being quickly followed by mounting purchases of American goods. In a recent dispatch it is pointed out that the first profits from sugar brought American automobiles to Cuba by the shipload, imports during the first three-quarters of 1935 exceeding the total of any entire year since 1931, and the 10-month total practically equaled the combined totals of 1932 and 1933.

So, economically and politically, Cuba seems to be once more on the broad highway of peace and prosperity, with no real obstacles in sight, and the people of the United States, not only because of the concrete benefits we will receive from a happy and prosperous Cuba, but because of our continued friendly interest in the island republic we aided to create, may rejoice that its era of turmoil seems to be over.

Scientists vex us. Dr. Carrel thinks it possible to postpone death indefinitely, but fails to say if it could be done with taxes.

A publisher is after Haile Selassie for a book. It would describe the feelings of a conquering lion on being thrown to the Christians.

A western convict who cut his way to freedom was ostensibly working on the prison books. Presumably looking over some old files.

The consensus of the more experienced observers is that a Townsend planner is harmless as long as he's planning.

With all those vegetables out of control, due to the AAA setback, it is like old times with the Cherry sisters performing behind a net.

It develops that the oldest war on which our government is still giving pensions is that of 1812.
Hurrah! The Revolution is paid off.

World's Window

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Back in Rome.

ROME, Italy.—With my right eye in a sling some people here in Rome take me for a veteran returning from the African campaign. I have saluted more than once in self defense.
That's as it should be, only veterans should get something more than salutes. When the Great War was over and I came to Canada, the Canadian government offered me, and all veterans who had spent a certain time in the front, a piece of land in the hills far out of the way that I took me four days hiking through the woods with an Indian guide, to locate it. We roamed around in its neighborhood, perhaps in the end forest.

Now, to a man from Norway or Sweden, or France, this would have been a fine opportunity to make home, there were trees enough.

I stuck it out for a whole winter and cut trees and logs. The following spring some government inspector came around my cabin. I remember his name to this day. It was Bert Maybe. This Bert Maybe quietly informed me that he had selected my cabin on somebody else's territory and that I had been stealing logs and timber from my absent neighbor, some other ex-sosojourner. In a burst of magnanimity I signed away my farm, farm, they called it, to that neighbor and apologized for cutting down some of his trees. That was the end of I hiked back to the nearest village, rugged, bearded, but so strong physically that he could have carried an ox.

When in Rome I first take a stroll around and visit the old haunts, the Pincio Gardens, the ruins of the Forum, the tomb of Hadrian. I drop into a church or two and marvel again at the high light of the interior.
I never fail to cast a glance at St. Peter's and the dome, the cathedral of the world, the learned temple I never fail to cast a glance at that old inscription which begins with the words: "The Pope Adrian, the Father of the Church." . . . That was the pope who crowned Charlemagne. He was a Netherlander and was born in the same town where I was born. The particular inscription is almost all that remains of the old St. Peter's church, which stood on the same spot, and of which you can find the remains in the crypt beneath.
In the crypt I never fail to descend and watch the young artists working on the frescos on the walls. Then you come to a fenced-off section and in a semi-circle lie a group of bishops, . . . . .

DEXTERITY

It may be a coincidence, but the Roosevelt-Wallace groups have similarly gone through the AAA decision and decided to agree that it was not loaded. That explains the formation of the new farm plan. In its present initial form, it represents only an idea. Changes may be expected in it daily until a final agreeable form is worked out.

Ultimate details will determine whether it is constitutional or not, but one will find out for sure until after the next election.

POLITICS

Both Mr. Roosevelt and Treasury Secretary Morgenthau

have burning personal feelings about the high salaries paid to corporate executives and movie stars.

Neither was sorry that the law permitted them to make that new list public.

Considerable buck-passing occurred backstage, however, before the names were made available for publication. Speaker Byrns and Chairman

Douglas pushed newsmen back and forth for two days before Byrns kicked Douglas into announcing that the list was a public document.

The executive branch of the government ducked responsibility entirely.

Publication was considered excellent politics.

DREAMING

Monumental moguls of eastern republicanism have already privately picked a vice presidential running mate for Governor Landon. He is Congressman James W. Wadsworth, of New York, whose name will be heard more frequently hereafter.

The selection is still in the dream stage, but the dreaming is being done by persons who have been able to make some of their dreams come true in the past.

Wadsworth probably would be a good eastern balance wheel for any western republican presidential candidate, but he is particularly well suited technically to the Landon situation. He is wet and conservative.

SQUEEZE

The lack of interest with which Governor Talmadge was greeted during his recent visit to Washington bespeaks a new policy toward him. The New Dealers did not even take the trouble to hate him.

All he was permitted to say was "naw" when his name was called on a resolution lauding the New Deal.

One newsmen bet him a quart that he would not have a delegate to the next convention; another bet that he would not have his home state delegation. They made safe bets.

Talmadge's delegation will not be seated at the convention, no matter how it is selected. The convention rules committee will see to that.

NOTES

Congressmen assert that Washington police and judges are prejudiced against them. The pending bill permitting congressmen to be tried in their own districts for Washington offenses is very likely to pass the house (but not the senate).

The republican national committee has signed up an outstanding university economist who will apparently function as something of a brain trustee to offset New Deal economists.

If Mr. Roosevelt gets a chance to appoint anyone to the supreme court, it will not be any of those whose names you have heard, but probably Senator Wagner, of New York.

The only addition to the White House force provided in the 1937 budget is an automobile washer at a salary of $1,320 per year.

Some democrats cannot yet get over the fact that outside the entrance to the Jackson Day dinner was a large picture of Chief Justice

Hughes. It was placed in the hotel lobby by a firm of local photographers.

Also the ladies are still murmuring because the $50-a-plate fee caused most democratic officials to leave their wives at home.

HORNER OPENS WAR ON DEMOCRATIC GROUP

Illinois Official States Intra-Party Office Holders To Be Ousted.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 13.—(AP) Governor Horner opened fire with his parliamentary power today against the democratic organization members who voted to replace him as head of the state ticket with Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago vote-getter.

Although only one officeholder was openly discharged during the day, friends of the Governor said a score or more important state posts which have been held by allies of his intra-party group would be vacated in the next few days.

The political heads scheduled to roll off the pay roll were employees of state departments sponsored by leaders who ranged themselves on the side of the Cook county organization, credited with initiating the move to oust Horner from the 1926 ticket.

Such a situation, here estimated Horner had all direct control of 12,000 out of the estimated 20,000 pay rollers and that this authority would be wielded fully against his enemies.

The choice of Bundesen was assailed in a verbal statement by Dan Sullivan, administrative auditor for the Governor.

"The selection of a candidate who was first appointed to office by William Hale Thompson (former republican mayor of Chicago) and who is now employed by Frank Knox shows how sincerely interested are the men who are animated by personal hatred of Governor Horner, in the success of the democratic party," Sullivan said.

Major Edward J. Kelly was silent but Democratic National Committee man Pat Nash, frequently termed his partner in the direction of party affairs in Chicago and Cook county, commented on Bundesen's choice:

"We have named a powerful vote-getter to lead us in the state and help make it safe for President Roosevelt in November."

The gentle art of picking pockets was believed by Atlanta detectives to have lost two of its most efficient devotees with the arrest Sunday of the two men shown above. The alleged "dips" are, left to right, J. S. Clark and William Foster. They were arrested Sunday afternoon in a downtown theater after L. L. McGahee, of 985 Howell place, grabbed them when they allegedly tried to pick his pockets. They are shown as they were being booked at police headquarters on suspicion. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

Fourth Expedition Joins Search For Redfern, Lost American Flyer

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The jungle search for Paul Redfern, long lost United States flyer, drew a fourth expedition today to the South American hinterland.

Three rescue parties, already penetrate the interior in the hunt for the man who disappeared in 1927 on a flight from near Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro and for whom hope was only recently revived, were not expected to report for at least a month.

Dispatches from Cristobal, Canal Zone, said the new expedition, from the Alberto S. Wills post of the American Legion, sailed yesterday for Trincomalee and Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, vowing not to return until the Redfern mystery was solved.

The members of this expedition were reported to be James Ryan and Arthur J. Farrel, a past commander of the post.

Unbroken bushland, swamps and mountain ranges separated the searchers from the Indian village where a crippled white man, believed by some to be Redfern, was reported by another white man and an Indian to be held captive.

Art Williams, former United States army flyer; Edward Sill, British Guiana merchant backing the expedition; Harry V. Endt, co-pilot, and an Indian who promised to lead the party to Redfern took off from Georgetown early in December for the interior.

A party of surveyors marking the boundaries of British Guiana, Dutch Guiana and Brazil reported the plane had flown over the long-sought village, but was unable to land.

The searchers flew back, brought their plane to a safe haven, and started flying and paddling up the Corentyne river by canoe. This expedition is expected to take two weeks to reach the village, and possibly longer to emerge.

A second party, including J. H. Rock and G. Pacht, headed into the jungle soon after the Sill expedition started its canoe trip, traveling up the Surinam (Dutch Guiana) river westward for a 10-day cross-jungle hike to the village.

The third expedition, headed by H. Van Leyden, leader of the Netherlands section of the boundary commission, left Paramaribo January 2 and has not been reported since.

Art Williams, who piloted the first expedition over the jungle, meanwhile, has landed in New York.

A Pan-American Airways inspector, the only man in this section with authority to pass on the safety of Williams' plane, left Georgetown yesterday. Williams had been carrying passengers in a plane registered in Florida.

REDS' HEADQUARTERS SAID IN MEXICO CITY

BRAZILIAN CHARGE COMMUNISTS NOW PLAN CENTRAL AMERICAN ACTIVITY.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 13.—(AP) A charge that communists have opened headquarters in Mexico City for "direct action" in subversive work on the American continent was made today by high Brazilian sources.

These sources said the headquarters, located from Monterrey, north spheromates at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Bishop's announcement was made only a few minutes after both students had pleaded innocent to the charges named in an indictment returned last week.

Both were accused of popping two policemen and a Boston newspaperman with pellets shot from air pistols last November 20. The charge against them carried a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison.

Bishop's reasons for not pressing the case were:

Representatives of the comintern (communist internationale), it was asserted, expect to direct subversive work in Central America, Colombia, Venezuela, the Guianas and the northern part of Brazil.

(A leftist result was suppressed in Brazil in November and it was at the instigation of this government that Uruguay severed relations with Moscow, charging the legation directed red activity throughout South America. Russia vigorously denied this and has accused the League of Nations of taking up the matter.)

It was pointed out in these circles that police of nations in the southern part of South America have been especially watchful of communists since the Brazilian revolt.

They said they saw a strong resemblance between the complaints suffered here and the League of Nations.

ATLANTAN IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Lennie Clouse, alias Lonnie Allen, of 380 Hill street, S. E., was arrested yesterday by Atlanta police at the request of Chief Detective Elkins Lewis, of Nashville, Tenn., on a charge of murder.

Nashville police said last night they would come to Atlanta today to return Clouse to that city. Clouse told officers here, they reported, that he would waive extradition.

Lewis said the man listed in the warrant as Clouse was "supposed to be" one of a group participating in a holdup in Nashville two years ago in which a groceryman was killed. Clouse has been working here for a flooring company.

BAILEY ADMITS SLAYING GETS LIFE SENTENCE

GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Ray Bailey, 32-year-old North Carolina desperado, pleaded guilty when arraigned in general sessions court today on a charge of murder of A. B. Hunt, a Greenville policeman, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Although he pleaded guilty, Bailey asserted he was innocent in a statement he made to newsmen after receiving sentence. Lack of funds to conduct a defense, he said, caused him to plead guilty.

FAIR, COLDER WEATHER FORECAST FOR TODAY

Gradual shifting of winds to the northwest yesterday caused a lowering in temperatures in Atlanta after a high mark of 59 degrees had been reached during the early afternoon.

Todays' performance of the winds from the northwest mean clear skies, no more than 30° by 11:30 a.m. A mercury start at 30 degrees this morning to climb no higher than 44 during the day.

"No severe cold weather is expected," said Weather Forecaster George W. Mindell yesterday, "the northwest winds will drop the temperature barely below the freezing point." (Adv.)

TRAFFIC TOLL MOUNTS AS NEGRO IS KILLED

BICYCLE RIDER CRASHES INTO TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR'S CAR; CRASH UNAVOIDABLE.

The Georgia traffic toll since Saturday was increased to nine dead yesterday afternoon. Sims Smalley, 17-year-old negro, was killed instantly when his bicycle hit a car driven by E. C. Houston of 1021 Clifton road, supervisor for the Southern Bell Telephone Company of restoration of long-distance telephone wires in the Atlanta area.

The accident occurred at Pulliam and Vassar streets. Police reported the negro was riding his bicycle down a steep grade and was unable to stop in time to avoid the impact. His death marks the fifth fatal accident in the city limits since the first of the year. Police booked a technical charge of reckless driving against Houston.

The telephone official took the youth to Grady hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival and then took the body to an undertaking establishment.

Smalley's death was the second in Atlanta since Saturday night. E. B. Hutchins, 20, of Twenty-second Infantry at Fort McPherson, died late Saturday night of injuries suffered when he was struck Thursday in front of the fort by an automobile. Funeral services for Hutchins will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Bethany Baptist church, near Stone Mountain, with the Rev. J. B. Brookshire, the Rev. Mr. Spyre and Chapman, ministers officiating. Hutchins will be in the churchyard with Blanchard Brothers in charge.

In another auto accident yesterday afternoon, Herbert Adderhold, of 579 Cain street, was knocked down by a hit-and-run driver at Ashby street and Bankhead avenue. He was taken to Grady hospital, where attachés said he suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

Two other persons were seriously injured in accidents yesterday afternoon. James Ewing, 16, of 382 Patterson avenue, suffered a possible fracture of the skull when he rode a bicycle, according to police, into the path of a car driven by William Adams, 19, of 1400 McPherson avenue. The accident occurred at Flat Shoals and Glenview avenues.

Adams was booked on a technical charge of reckless driving and Ewing was taken to Grady hospital, where his condition was said to be serious.

In another accident at Ponce de Leon avenue and Oakdale road, Corie Bell Howe, 26-year-old negro, suffered a possible fracture of the skull when she was knocked down by a car driven, police reported, by E. S. Palmer, 33, of 128 Coventry road.

Palmer told officers that the woman walked from behind another car directly into his path. She was taken to Grady hospital, where her condition was said to be poor.

Betty Joan Croker, 7, of 280 Georgia avenue, S. E., was injured seriously at 7 o'clock last night in front of her home when she was knocked down by an auto driven, according to police, by E. E. Boyd, 44, of East Point.

The child was taken to Grady hospital. She suffered a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries. Boyd was charged with reckless driving.

Previously, a radio message from Orlando police had reported that the bandit had been arrested there and a full description and fingerprints were requested. Detective Lee Nahlik and J. J. Chester, who trailed Beard to North Carolina immediately informed the authorities that Beard was not the man under arrest and was received shortly afterward.

Beard is wanted here for shooting Patrolman I. P. Jones and in North Carolina as a fugitive convict. He alleged career of crime also includes more than 60 robberies in St. Paul and Minneapolis. He was arrested in the former city after he had been shot by a woman whose home he was robbing. Returned to North Carolina, he was tried and sentenced to death. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and he later escaped.

Both were accused of popping two policemen and a Boston newspaperman with pellets shot from air pistols last November 20. The charge against them carried a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison.

Bishop's reasons for not pressing the case were:

Representatives of the comintern (communist internationale), it was asserted, expect to direct subversive work in Central America, Colombia, Venezuela, the Guianas and the northern part of Brazil.

(A leftist result was suppressed in Brazil in November and it was at the instigation of this government that Uruguay severed relations with Moscow, charging the legation directed red activity throughout South America. Russia vigorously denied this and has accused the League of Nations of taking up the matter.)

It was pointed out in these circles that police of nations in the southern part of South America have been especially watchful of communists since the Brazilian revolt.

They said they saw a strong resemblance between the complaints suffered here and the League of Nations.

ATLANTAN IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Judge Holds Neidecker Trio Need Not Return to France for Trial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Judge Learned Hand, a federal district court decision and ordered the trial of three Neidecker brothers to face embezzlement charges.

Both brothers, Bertram C. George W. and Andrew Neidecker, are U.S. citizens and have been fighting extradition since they were taken into custody by authorities here after the failure of their private bank in Paris.

Judge Hand reversed a federal district court decision and ordered the trial of three Neidecker brothers to face embezzlement charges.

It is indeed unfortunate," Judge Hand wrote, "that there should be no way in which the Neidecker brothers can be punished if they are guilty.

"We have an honorable record, but it is uncertain how far our diplomacy is yet prepared to give where it does not receive."

'FINISH OF TALMADGE' PREDICTED BY HARRIS

Solons Split Over Proposed Anti-Roosevelt Meeting in Macon.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Roy Harris, floor leader of the state-house of representatives, predicted today the anti-Roosevelt meeting to be held in Macon January 29 by Governor Talmadge and others would "amount to nothing and will completely finish off Mr. Talmadge."

Governor Talmadge, who has demanded that democrats of the nation not resominate President Roosevelt, has announced that the Macon meeting to which anti-Roosevelt democrats from 17 states have been invited, will make an organized fight for anti-Roosevelt delegates to the democratic national convention.

Varied comments on the meeting came today from other members of the legislature.

State Representative W. K. (Billy) Barrett, one of Harris' colleagues, a Talmadge supporter, said he planned to attend the meeting, to hear the issue from both sides.

Harris said he "wouldn't attend for any consideration on earth. My opinion is that the republicans have gotten control of Mr. Talmadge."

Representative J. K. Whaley, of McRae, Talmadge's home town, said he planned to attend the meeting.

Representative W. E. Lewis, also of Macon, said he was not familiar "with the plans of the anti-Roosevelt meeting in Macon, and therefore would not like to comment, except to say that I feel that it would be fair in view of the Roosevelt meeting in Atlanta, which was nothing but an anti-Talmadge meeting, with a few trimmings. I did not attend the meeting in Atlanta and I do not intend being present at Macon, as I do not follow politics of this nature." Rawlins is president pro tem. of the senate.

Representative F. S. Batchelor, of Putnam county, said he had a "poor opinion of the Macon meeting." Representative E. S. Harrison, of Cravens county said he was "unfriendly" to the meeting. The session was described as "purely demagogism" by Representative Carlisle Cobb, of Clarke.

Neal Comments.

Representative Jule C. Neal, of Gordon county, said he considered the session a "republican effort to split the country."

Representative Ralph E. Lewis, of Burke, said he thought "the real purpose of the gathering was 'not to break down democracy in Georgia, or the south, but to aid indirectly the opposition in doubtful states' whose voters, he said, might feel that it reflected 'majority of opinion in Georgia,' and might result in 'Georgia is against the President, then why shouldn't we be against him?'

State Senator John J. Jones, of Wayneboro, said he regarded the Macon gathering "as a typical republican gathering, and I am deeply ashamed that any governor of Georgia should sponsor such an occasion. Everyone will be pleased to see the President Roosevelt will be renominated, and the Macon meeting will have no effect except to give publicity seekers like Governor Talmadge, a further chance to air their views."

From Sparta, Representative Marvin G. Pound, of Hancock, wrote that he doesn't think much of the gathering, but that it is more of a republican gathering than a democratic rally.

Representative W. M. Smith, of Webster, described it as "a gathering of people that believe in the people supporting the government, not the government supporting the people, and that believe in political and economic freedom."

From Ray City, Representative J. H. Swindell, of Berrien, wrote he thought the meeting "is solely for the purpose of consolidating and taking stock of the Talmadge forces."

State Senator Randall Evans Jr., of Thomas, commented it was a "good movement." Evans said in Atlanta that the hit-and-run election was having a primary election on the same day of the meeting and that he would be unable to attend. "We can't go to Macon but so long as you are nominated for president whatever the meeting does is all right," Evans told the Governor.

CATHOLICS TO INSTALL NEW GEORGIA BISHOP

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 13.—(UP)—The Most Rev. Gerald P. O'Hara Wednesday morning will be installed as ninth bishop of Savannah at solemn ceremonies in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist.

Bishop O'Hara, formerly auxiliary bishop to Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia, left for Savannah to-day with an entourage numbering high dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church.

The special train carries a party of 10, including Cardinal Dougherty.

The cardinal will ride Wednesday morning at solemn pontifical high mass, which will be celebrated by the newly appointed Bishop O'Hara.

The new prelate succeeds the Most Rev. Michael J. Keyes, who retired last October because of ill health.

Founder of Berry School Is Honored by Alumni Body

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Suit for $54,000,000 damages for alleged violation of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust laws was filed in United States district court today against more than 200 ice cream companies by the Mills Novelty Company, Chicago, manufacturers of counter ice cream freezers, slot machines and other products.

Suit is brought by W. L. Newell, attorney for the Mills company, said the complaint charged the defendants with unfair competition, defamation of character, advertising and boycotting tactics among them.

Dr. Sanford, who was told of the Legionnaires' letter in Savannah, where he is visiting, said "It's the first I've heard of it." He declined to comment on reported charges of the Legionnaires.

He said he left his office Saturday. The letter was dated January 13.

GEORGIA GLEE CLUB PLANS ANNUAL TOUR

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The University of Georgia Glee Club is planning to take 42 singers and 10 band members on its annual tour this spring.

"The responsible heads of the university should repudiate him immediately," the Legionnaires wrote.

They termed "most unfortunate" the university's engagement of Soule "with every patriotic organization in Georgia fighting with every resource this despicable group and friends to defend against the charge that their doors are being opened to them."

Caught a Cold?... Vicks VapoRub helps End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat and chest at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub acts—two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

NEW FEDERAL DISTRICT SOUGHT BY WHEELCHEL

Gainesville Solon Seeks Creation of "Northeastern" Court Circuit.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A new judicial district to be known as "the northeastern" will be created in Georgia, a bill today introduced in the house by Representative Frank Wheelchel, of Gainesville, is enacted. The new district will be divided into three divisions, one sitting at Athens, the second at Gainesville and the third at Rome.

The Wheelchel measure also includes two sections in the existing northern district, one division will sit at Atlanta and the other at Newnan. At present, there are three judicial districts in the state—the northern, the middle and the southern.

The bill was referred to the judiciary committee, members of which already have told Mr. Wheelchel that a subcommittee would be authorized to investigate the need for an additional federal judge in Georgia and that if the need was found to be justified his measure would be reported to the full house favorably.

Representative Wheelchel believes there is altogether too much work in the northern district for the only presiding judge, E. Marvin Underwood, who sits at Atlanta.

"On repeated occasions," Mr. Wheelchel said, "it has been necessary for Judge Underwood to call upon other federal judges to assist him in clearing his calendar. I know, of my own knowledge, that at present there are only two judges to be found in the northern district of at least two years' standing. By taking in the whole northeastern section of the state my bill will not interfere with the Atlanta nor northern district but it will facilitate the work of both the judge and attorneys in the northern part of the state."

Representative Wheelchel would make the Atlanta division of the northern district embrace the following counties: Campbell, Clayton, Cobb, DeKalb, Douglas, Fulton, Henry, Milton, Newton and Rockdale; the Newnan division, Carroll, Coweta, Fayette, Haralson, Heard, Spalding and Franklin; the Rome division, for Atlanta would be held in Atlanta on the second Monday in March and the first Monday in October. The Newnan division would sit at Newnan the first Mondays in April and November; "provided suitable rooms and accommodations are furnished for holding court, free of cost to the government."

The work being done at Martha Berry schools constitutes the most significant educational enterprise in the world today," said Dr. William Mathew Lewis, of Easton, Pa., president of Lafayette College.

Dr. Lewis, one of eight college presidents who attended the ceremony, was the main speaker.

"The proper objectives are being held before the students of Berry College," he said. "They are taught the dignity of honest labor and the joy of doing simple and necessary tasks in a fine way."

"When the history of progressive education during the 20th century is written, a distinguished place in the list of leaders will be accorded Martha Berry."

The exercises were held on the 34th anniversary of the Berry schools and college. The institution was founded in a Sunday school log cabin and has grown under the leadership of the Berry family.

Other college heads who attended were Dr. M. L. Bailett, Georgia Tech; Dr. G. C. Sherrod, State Teachers of Johnson City, Tenn.; Dr. William J. Williamson, State Teachers of Florence, Ala.; Dr. Spright Dowell, of Mercer University, of Macon; Dr. Paul M. Cousins, Shorter, of Rome; Dr. William E. Thompson, LaGrange College.

Walter Johnson, alumni secretary, was in charge of the program.

A luncheon was held at the Henry Ford refectory and alumni held their annual business meeting during the afternoon. A student program and annual intersociety debate tonight rounded out the program.

The bust was made by Steffen Thomas, Atlanta sculptor, was a present of students and alumni. Thomas, a master student of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts of Munich, and also a student of many Italian sculptors, has made busts of Thomas Edison, Henry Grady, Governor Talmadge and others.

Students were here from all parts of the south.

Robert C. Alston, of Atlanta, president of the board of trustees, was master of ceremonies. Rev. R. W. Selman, chancellor of the Georgia University System, then charged Soule with being a member of the Royal Academy in 1906, led the devotions.

The Legionnaires' letter in Savannah, where he is visiting, said "It's the first I've heard of it." He declined to comment on reported charges of the Legionnaires.

ARMS ORDER DELAYS REVEALED AT PROBE

U. S. Waited While Britain Got Arms, Senate Investigators Are Told.

WASHINGTON. Jan. 13.—(AP)—With J. P. Morgan indignantly disclaiming any responsibility, the senate munitions committee produced evidence today that the Midvale Steel Company set virtually its whole plant to filling British war needs in 1916 and left ammunition orders of the United States army waiting.

Midvale officials will be called for testimony, probably next week, the committee announced.

Morgan correspondence showed Great Britain expressing apprehension lest American needs retard the delivery of shells for use in France and Midvale replying that, "on the contrary" it had "seriously delayed" fulfilling the orders of its own government in the emulsion of the Mazarine border.

In addition, the committee revealed that in floating the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan of 1915, the Morgans used the mailing lists of British and Scotch organizations in this country, solicited the endorsements of men prominent in the American business world, and advertised extensively in the newspapers under the slogan "Boon's Beneficial."

From Morgan and his partners, Thomas W. Lamont and George Whitney, the investigators also received assertions that the business boom created here by the war orders of Great Britain and France was beneficial to the region and hardly the cause of its ultimate participation in the war.

"I think the increase in exports helped this country and I don't think it led us into the war," the head of the House of Morgan asserted.

A week-end rest at his New York home did not stop the good spirit of the financial baron, noticeably wearing thin under committee accusations, vigorously denied that his firm precipitated a foreign exchange panic to force the Wilson administration to permit huge loans to the Allies.

He showed most of the day, or toyed with it, in a bloodless portrait of his great grandfather, the Rev. James Pierpont, worn throughout a busy life time by his own father, the first J. P. Morgan. But almost always he was at ease, lounging comfortably in the witness chair.

Other Partners Present. At the same time Moir, who was in charge of Morgan's bond department during the war and since elected to partnership. Beside Whitney was energetic little Lamont, now Morgan's senior partner. Behind the three was a phalanx of lawyers, subordinates and press contacts men.

The circumstances of Midvale's entry into the British government's orders to fill those of the British came out with the reading of an exchange of letters between the steel company, the Morgan Company, which acted as purchasing agent for the British, and

SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't work well a day or so gets along, but more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of waste tubes are not flushing out. This dangerous signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your physician for DOAN'S PILLS which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

Southern Aviation Officials Attend Meeting Here

A resolution urging the federal government to expand airports just as it does now for federal highways was adopted here yesterday by delegates to the southern regional meeting of the National Association of State Aviation Officials, at their final session.

A need for additional airports as a means of bringing about private flying, of defending the country in times of war and of facilitating airline schedules was indicated by several speakers before the body yesterday.

"There should be an airport in practically every town, so flyers can land where they are going and not at some point 50 miles from their intended destination," W. G. Stewart, assistant director in the aviation division of the road department of Florida, told the delegates. "When we wanted automobile travel, we built roads, and until good roads were all over the country, automobile travel was small. The same applies to airplanes."

A network of airports, as a means of defense during war, was urged by Captain John B. Patrick, instructor of non-divisional air units for the fourth corps area. In the future wars, he said, smaller, speedy ships will operate off prepared fields back of the lines.

"Ships should be dispersed over large areas with few planes at each," he said. "The country will be surrounded by an interception net to warn of the enemy's invasion. Bases should be from 75 to 100 miles apart. The new units will be assembled by radio."

"That's something for Midvale to answer," he added.

Vandenberg, Neutrality. Much of the morning was occupied with an exchange of opinions between Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, and the array of witnesses on the effect of war based upon neutrality.

"Any boom, whether in peace or war, is followed by deflation," Lamont interjected.

Nation No Better Off. Because of the resulting deflation war orders ultimately cease, Vandenberg said he thought the country was no better off for the orders he had filled and that he was interested in "fixing the rules" so that in the future the original war boom phase was made impossible.

"Would you not now say that when you encourage such trade you encourage inflation that must be temporary and result in deflation?" Vandenberg persisted.

"I don't think you could look ahead that way," Morgan answered.

"Do you think, abstractedly, that a heavy war trade is disadvantageous?"

"That's a pretty general question," Lamont replied. "But in the case of the War, our contractors wanted all sorts of commodities, and our people had them to sell. It was most natural and proper that they should sell."

CROSS SECTIONS

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO SAMUEL ROTHAFEL

Theatrical Genius Was Familiarly Known to Audiences as "Roxy."

NEW YORK. Jan. 13.—(AP)—Samuel L. Rothafel, the famous genius of the motion picture palace and its glittering stage spectacles, died today after a heart attack in his hotel suite. He was 53.

He was known to the radio and movie world as "Roxy." In his life, the spectacular was Allah and Roxy was his God.

Rothafel founded the movie theater a barren hall. He left it an ornate palace with a symphony orchestra, mechanical stages, chorus, ballet, revues, and operatic performers—all at "popular prices."

He retired last night in apparent good health. He was warned more than a year ago by his physician that his heart had enlarged and that he stopped dead in his bed this morning.

Rothafel's health was broken in 1932 and 1933 by his frantic activities in the opening of his greatest achievement, the music hall and center theaters at Radio City, where he brought stage shows to the plane of Broadway revues.

Leaving the Rockefeller theatrical enterprises in 1934, Roxy launched his last venture in Philadelphia. It ended in failure. It was the directorship of the Roxy-Mastbaum theater, whose box office failed to keep pace with the Roxy imagination.

Roxy, as director of New York's Capitol theater, was the first to link the movie palace with the radio, becoming nationally famous through broadcasting the talent of "Roxy and His Gang."

He is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at Central synagogue, Rabbi Stephen Wise officiating. Burial will be at Linden Hill, Long Island.

SAM A. TRUFANT SR.

NEW ORLEANS. Jan. 13.—(AP)—Sam A. Trufant Sr., 82, New Orleans civic and business leader for many years, died here today for heart complications.

RFV. T. O'DONNELL.

HALIFAX, N. S. Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Most Rev. Thomas O'Donnell, Roman Catholic archbishop of Halifax, died here today. He was 61 years old. Archbishop O'Donnell suffered a cerebral hemorrhage four days ago.

COMMANDER MITCHELL.

BRADENTON, Fla. Jan. 13.—(AP)—Commander G. E. Mitchell, 66, furloughed navy officer, died here today. His home was South Dubux, Mass. While assigned to the first naval base at Boston during the World War he recruited 57,000 men. At the time he was captain in the merchant marine.

JOHN B. MYRICK.

MOBILE, Ala. Jan. 13.—(AP)—John B. Myrick, former editor of Tallahasseen Daily, regional vice president, presided at the sessions. Other speakers yesterday included E. O. Lindsey, director of aeronautics for Tennessee, who spoke on airport maintenance, and Steadham Acker, manager of the Birmingham municipal airport, who talked on problems of airport management.

Another resolution was adopted which will ask the Bureau of Air Commerce to eliminate tail skids on planes. The bill asks that wheels be put on aircraft weighing more than 1,000 pounds that a "spoon type of shoe" be put on craft weighing less than 1,000 pounds. That tail skids damage runways, cited as the reason for the did not recover.

R. D. MOXLEY.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. Jan. 13.—(AP)—The body of R. D. Moxley, 80, son of the late Register, died here today. His wife was Anna. He stood ready to answer further questioning by authorities to give an information he might have overlooked in the past. But he reassured his innocence of the crime.

G. W. ELLINGTON.

HENDERSON, N. C. Jan. 13.—(AP)—G. W. Ellington, 47-year-old son of Henderson merchant, died instantly from a bullet wound in the head as he sat on a bed in living quarters over his store. His death was called a suicide by Coronet J. S. Albright.

N. S. RICHARDSON.

KINSTON, N. C. Jan. 13.—(AP)—Funeral services were held here today for Nathan S. Richardson, member of a widely known North Carolina family who died suddenly of a heart attack.

South Side Senate named three new members to the body at a recent meeting. The new members of the community organization are Sam Deavours, Miss Ruth Bonsoire and Miss Evelyn Buckner. Miss Judy White spoke on "The Qualities of a Good Senator." Russell Burnett, president of the senate, addressed the group.

May Keep Money from Hamilton. However, those following the situation Talmadge's adversaries as well as his friends, long have been of the opinion that the Governor will have difficulty getting money out of the treasury once it gets there and that the whole success of whatever plan he may have in mind yet not disclosed will lie around a program which will keep as much money from going through the office of the highly bonded Hamilton.

In this connection it was recalled yesterday that the opinion handed down by Attorney-General M. J. Yeomans last week regarding the salaries of judges and other state employees stated rather emphatically that while the money could be paid to these officials it could be so done because the law made what was considered a continuing appropriation for the purpose. The ruling of Judge Yeomans permitted money to go out of the treasury minus a 1936-37 general appropriations bill but it nevertheless provided that the outlay was by appropriation of the general assembly.

A number of quarterly budgets submitted by various state department heads, calling for the use of funds which carried over from last year, still are in the executive offices awaiting approval. Gov. Hamilton has till two or three days to act on these budgets before salaries for the first two weeks of the year become due Wednesday. However, no hitch concerning these is anticipated as all agencies, exclusive of the courts, have enough in lapsed funds to carry them from one to four months. The commissioners and the university system have some money on hand. When a show-down comes it probably will involve either of these three branches of the government and for the time being at least they have something on which to travel.

BRITISH ARE RESIGNED TO OIL SANCTION VOTE

Government Ready To Proceed Collectively at League Council's Meet.

LONDON. Jan. 13.—(AP)—A strong possibility that the sanctions ring around Italy will be drawn tighter was indicated tonight.

The British government, it was learned, is ready to proceed collectively in Geneva when the League council meets January 20 with a further use of punitive machinery against Premier Mussolini.

Additional oil to the sanctions list rests with the League, and when such a boycott could be made effective which in turn depends partly upon the American viewpoint—a viewpoint which is not yet fully established.

Disclosure that Britain is ready to go ahead followed a long meeting to-day of defense ministers and army, navy and air force officials. The full cabinet also attended.

Leisurely Showdown Sets.

Indications in London were that the powers may temporarily play for time in Geneva, but eventually will proceed to a showdown vote on oil.

In anticipation of that action—which the British recognize will be a critical stage—steps have been taken by Keogh's office to prepare for a trial if the League fails to act.

Keogh, who served as a lawyer in 1931, urged that everyone entering the courtroom be armed with affidavits.

Keogh, who has a summer home at Portofino, inherited extensive property from his father in 1896.

His psychopathic examination was hastened after he remarked:

"The bullet struck me with a mail, but didn't say: 'Hear ye, hear ye.'

CITY PREP LOOP GETS UNDER WAY THIS AFTERNOON

N. G. I. C. Fives Also Scheduled To Play Four Games.

Atlanta's prep basketball season will officially ushered into the front row this afternoon. The city prep league, with seven members, will open its season in three games, with members of the North Georgia Interscholastic Conference competing in four other games.

A double-header between North Fulton and Russell High on the East Point court will head the list of attractions. A girls' game will start at 2:45 o'clock with the boys' game, one of the features of the week, following immediately.

North Fulton has won five straight games, while Russell High won the North Georgia Interscholastic Conference last year for the first time.

DECATUR VS. FULTON.

Decatur plays Fulton High at 3 o'clock on the Calvary court in another N. G. I. C. game, while the Decatur girls take Sacred Heart at 3 o'clock on the Decatur court.

In the prep league, Commercial High plays Marist College at 3 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. court, and Columbus Industrial plays G. M. A. at the same hour on the College Park court. Tech High journeys to Monroe for a game with Red Barron's Monroe Aggies in the other prep game. Boys' High is the second member of the league, drew an open date.

Another round of the prep league will be played Friday afternoon, with a majority of the N. G. I. C. members in action for the second time this week.

TYPISTS VS. PURPLES.

Commercial High and Boys' High will play at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the only game of the day.

Tech High won the city championship last year, but with the loss of the girls' team and reserves, the Smithies face plenty of trouble with a new, inexperienced team to start the new year.

Boys' High returned only Mims and Hickman from last year and the Purples in preliminary practice games have won only one of five.

G. M. A. also suffered heavy from graduation losses. Captain Rowlett and Alternate Captain Hirsch from the reserve squad returned.

Commercial has a veteran five and will most likely be one of the favorites to win the city title.

On the Courts

X-CITY LEAGUE.

Four teams are on tonight's schedule in the X-City league at the "Y." The teams open the race for the second half championship. The first half ended with Texas Company and Haas, Howell & Dodd deadlocked for the top position.

Stewart Avenue Methodist will make their debut in this series, playing the Texas Company. They replaced the Opportunity school and are expected to give the league a better balance. The complete schedule follows:

WPA vs. Northside Aves.—7 p.m.
C. & S. Building vs. Dental College—8 p.m.
Texas Company vs. Stewart Avenue Methodist—8:20 p.m.
Evening school vs. Haas, Howell & Dodd—8:40 p.m.

SANDLOT LEAGUE.

More than 50 players in action as sandlot baseball got under way Saturday morning at Hoke Smith Field with maximum. There is still room for a few more teams at this gymnasium. There are other gyms that would like to have teams enter their leagues—Joe Brown, Bass, Maddox, Murphy and Russell. Boys who will not have reached their eighteenth birthday by June 30, are invited to enter a team.

This will be a midge division—any boys not weighing over 105 pounds are requested to see the supervisor of the gymnasium in their neighborhood.

All gyms will be open on Saturday morning at 9 a.m.

S. A. A. A.

Lutheran Church and Jackson Hill Baptist fair teams in the Sunday School Amateur Athletic Association, will meet in the feature game of the basketball schedule tonight at the Y. W. C. A.

Jackson Hill is a threat to the first half championship with JOY Class now leading undefeated. Johnnie Woodcock, Jackson manager, is one of the fast men in the league and will be in the game against the Lutherans.

Lutheran recently found its footing to pull up at the halfway mark in percentage. The Rickett twins, George and John, are the stars of the Lutheran team.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate.

THE SCHEDULE.

JOY Class vs. First Christian at 7:30 o'clock.
JOY Class vs. Berean Class at 8:30 o'clock.
Lutheran Church vs. Jackson Hill at 9:30 o'clock.
Calvary vs. Ankyra Class at 10:30 o'clock.

By Ralph McIlree

"Are you planning any changes in your set-up, Eddie?" I asked Mr. Eddie Moore, the manager, who brought the Crackers their first flag in 10 years.

"No," he said. "I promised myself I'd eat five of these quail and I'm going to stick to it. Nothing can make me change."

The manager was deep in the midst of a bird dinner, the birds having been killed at Moultrie, Ga., where the Crackers will have their baseball farm this next season.

"I mean about the ball club," I asked.

"I want me a pitcher who will win 20 ball games and I'm going to get him," he said, tearing into the third quail.

"Can't you say anything sensational?"

"I might make it six birds," he said. "Did you hear about that bird hunter down at Moultrie?

"He's been hunting birds all his life. He's killed and eaten hundreds of them. He'd never been to Atlanta, but last month he came up for a visit. His host told him he was in for a treat, he was going to serve quail on toast."

"This had the fellow all pepped up. But he was telling Bobby Murray and me about it. He was awfully disappointed."

"Why was that?"

"Well, he told us he'd heard about quail on toast all his life and when they brought it in it wasn't a thing but a partridge on a piece of burnt bread."

"Has Bobby Murray got anything good there in Moultrie?"

"Mighty fine quail. It isn't often I can eat seven of them."

Baseball news will have to wait until the bird season is over.

RETLAFF TRAINS SMARTLY.

It was interesting to note that Charley Retzlaff, who fights Joe Louis Friday night, is doing quite a lot of sitting down in his training for the fight.

This may seem highly improper at first reading, but on second thought one must be immediately convinced the Duluth boy is really training and overlooking no bets.

It is highly probable he will be doing a lot of sitting down and lying down in his fight with Joe Louis Friday night. And hence it is proper he should take some training in this.

The dispatches do not say if Charley Retzlaff is doing his sitting down training suddenly and with violence. Nor does it say if he is going from a perpendicular to a horizontal position in one fell swoop, so to speak.

But that might be a good idea. James Joseph Tunney did a lot of road work running backward in his training for the second fight with Jack Dempsey. He used to turn while doing his road work and run a quarter of a mile or so backwards.

When the fight came at Chicago, Jack Dempsey landed one of those old Dempsey punches and James Joseph Tunney went down suddenly and with great violence. He got 14 seconds instead of 10, because the impetuous Dempsey would not retire to a neutral corner, as demanded by the rules, and when he got up he began running backwards. His training came in very handy indeed. Dempsey's legs were too old to follow him Tunney came on again to win.

In doing a lot of sitting down and lying down in his training, Charley Retzlaff is overlooking no possibilities. He might have to do both and may as well know how to do so gracefully and well.

THOSE FRANK VANDERBILTS.

No one can say the Vanderbilts of Nashville, Tenn-O-See, are not honest folk.

When they cast off the robes of holiness they did so completely and without reservation. They let Colonel Dan McGugin struggle along with no system of scholarships and hope to speak of from his alumni. He gave them 30 years of good football.

During all this time the Vanderbilt faculty representatives used to pain their associates no little by adopting a slightly superior air, condemning, very soundly, any and all attempts at subsidizing the wily athlete.

But once the Vanderbilts decided to go in for a new coach, they went all the way. They hired Mr. Ray Morrison at $10,000 per year and paid his first assistant more than they used to pay Dan McGugin. And while they had forced Dan McGugin to get along as best he could, largely by spending his own salary, they provided Mr. Morrison with a number of athletic scholarships, some 25, according to reliable information.

And now they have, according to the press of their city, appointed Mr. Vernon Sharp as "contact" man for the athletic association. Mr. Sharp, who was a star center at Vanderbilt and who is a splendid gentleman, will spend little time coaching. His job will be to contact prospective athletes and see what can be done about getting them to enter Vanderbilt University.

This is interesting, because no other institution boasts a contact man. That is a job which must be done on the side, so to speak. The Vanderbilts, by appointing a "contact" man, are showing the way.

One must admire their honesty. But at the same time one must wonder who uprooted the holiness and brought about all this frankness, scholarships, and appeals to alumni for funds to help create more scholarships.

GOLF'S "SLOW-POKES."

Golf's slow-pokes are to be speeded up by a new rule of the U. S. G. A. which may be as drastic as disqualification for the slow player who holds up his opponent, the gallery and who has every one in a state of nerves.

Craig Wood is one of the worst offenders in the game. Those who followed him last year at Augusta, for instance, were exhausted by his long study of putts, his deliberation over all types of shots.

It was Gehe Sarazen, however, who finally turned the tide on Wood. Sarazen had been impatient about it, but had not permitted it to affect his game. Wood was delaying and playing with snail-like speed.

Finally, Sarazen, well out in front in the play-off, dropped a putt and left Wood with a long one. Wood began studying it. He walked from side to side and meditated.

It was Sarazen's honor on the next tee. He looked at Wood and then left the green, went to the next tee, drove his ball and sat down on the bench to wait for Wood.

It was a sharp reproof and Wood got it. His play became not faster, but it did become much worse.

No one can capture goats as can the Little Sardine.

If they can speed up the golfers it will be just dandy. The slow idea was getting too much headway. The greatest golfer our land ever knew was Bobby Jones. He simply stepped up and hit the ball. Too many of the modern lads want to make an impression or want to cover up their lack of knowledge as to what is required. Hence the intolerable delays.

HARRIS UPSETS HENDRIX TO WIN BILTMORE TITLE

Lakeland Youngster Beats 'Giant Killer'; Grant, Bobbitt Lose Doubles.

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 13.—(UP)—The meteoric march to tennis front ranks of Arthur Hendrix was at least temporarily checked here today, with Charles Harris, fellow Floridian, whipping the Lakeland youngster, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, in the final of the Miami Biltmore tournament.

Hendrix, who within two weeks had beaten Wilmer Allison and Bryan M. Grant Jr., the nation's first and third ranking players, apparently found in Harris his master in three other tournaments.

BOTH JOE LOUIS AND BIG FARMER FLOOR PARTNERS

Bomber's Foe Weighs 198 for Friday Struggle at Stadium.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Joe Louis and Farmer Charley Retzlaff loosened dynamite-laden gloves against sparring mates today as they entered stretch drive training for their 15-round battle at the Chicago stadium Friday night.

The Brown Bomber stretched his body to its rounds while Retzlaff satisfied with his condition, cut his work to four rounds. Each floored one of their opponents.

Retzlaff, weighing 198 pounds, upset Milt Minkeel, Milwaukee, 185-pounder, in two rounds, dropping him with short right to the jaw. Johnny Brown, a squat negro from Chicago, boxed the final two rounds. The ring sage agreed Retzlaff looked impressive.

Otis Thomas, 190-pound negro, gave Louis his best workout. He faced Jolting Joe for two rounds and absorbed punches without hitting the canvas. A negro jumping-jack named Tom Jones, was so frightened when he heard the swish of Louis' gloves past his ears that he beat an immediate retreat around the ring for two rounds with Louis pursuing him. Louis finally caught up with him and dropped him with a short right cross.

Tiger Henderson stepped the final two rounds and was nailed frequently with lefts and rights to the head.

Louis and Retzlaff will continue their boxing through Thursday afternoon. Jack Blackburn, trainer of Louis, plans to have him charge through seven rounds of boxing tomorrow as the peak spurt of his training.

Eckert, Vet Pitcher, Bought by Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Purchase of Al Eckert, veteran southpaw pitcher, from the Rochester club of the International league, a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals, was announced today by Tom Watkins, president of the Memphis Southern Association.

During the 1935 season, Eckert divided his time between St. Louis and Rochester. Watkins said the 30-year-old hurler would be valuable in coaching this spring's pitching recruits.

A No. 1 Fan Is a Lady, Ticket Request Shows

Earl Mann Receives First Demand for Opening Day Reservation.

By Jack Troy.

The A-Number One fan of 1936 is a lady. Earl Mann, president of the Crackers, yesterday received a letter from Miss Mildred Woodward requesting reserved tickets for the opening day game as soon as they are printed.

It's the first time opening day tickets have been requested this early since Earl Mann has been connected in an official capacity with the club.

"I think Miss Woodward deserves the title of No. 1 fan," Mann declared. "And I certainly am going to see that she gets the first tickets."

It was also yesterday that President Mann received the first letter from a fan suggesting improvements at Ponce de Leon park.

FIRST SUGGESTION.

R. T. Smith wrote in suggesting that more reserved seats be available to the fans in 1936. He pointed out that there were not enough good seats for the fans at the big games last season.

"Out-of-town fans came to some of the big games and had to return home because there weren't any seats," Mr. Smith wrote.

President Mann, who has asked the fans to write him letters suggesting any changes that could be made for their comfort and convenience at the park, said he would give the suggestion thoughtful consideration.

Additional bleacher seats are being added now.

MATERIAL WORRYING.

All the viewing with alarm concerning the Cracker keystone combination of 1936 seems a bit premature.

Captain Buster Chatham, peppy shortstop, and Nell Lipscomb, one of the most valuable rookies in the league last year, did a pretty fine job during the entire season.

The two were particularly effective in hitting. Mihalic, who was the best second baseman in the Southern league, only batted one point higher than did Lipscomb. Mihalic hit .292.

Then, too, Chatham led the shortstop in hitting with a mark of .299. He was well below Rodds, leading shortstop in fielding. But his fielding will be good enough to land him ahead of such players as Roussoule, Cain, Lee and Willett.

Lipscomb handled 716 chances as he batted at a percentage of .951. He would be pretty hard to replace as a B player.

MORE DEBUNKING.

There simply is no reason for placing Lipscomb under a psychological handicap. He did well enough last year and it is reasonable to assume that he will improve in 1936.

The same applies to Chatham, who played part of the season with a knee injury. They form a pretty good keystroke combination as it stands.

President Mann's first fan letter also proffered an opening day crowd of 25,000 which the seating arrangements were improved.

It's the club's goal and is quite possible of attainment.

Baer Offered Grappling Career

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)

Max Baer may turn wrestler.

Lou Daro, Los Angeles promoter, said today he offered the former heavyweight boxing champion a year contract of $25,000 or 20 per cent of the gross receipts to enter the wrestling ring.

221-pound Baer countered with a demand for $35,000. The two went to see Auncil Hoffman, Baer's manager, to discuss terms.

"He'd be a natural," said Daro.

"Out-of-town fans came to some of the big games and had to return home because there weren't any seats," Mr. Smith wrote.

President Mann, who has asked the fans to write him letters suggesting any changes that could be made for their comfort and convenience at the park, said he would give the suggestion thoughtful consideration.

Additional bleacher seats are being added now.

MATERIAL WORRYING.

All the viewing with alarm concerning the Cracker keystone combination of 1936 seems a bit premature.

Captain Buster Chatham, peppy shortstop, and Nell Lipscomb, one of the most valuable rookies in the league last year, did a pretty fine job during the entire season.

The two were particularly effective in hitting. Mihalic, who was the best second baseman in the Southern league, only batted one point higher than did Lipscomb. Mihalic hit .292.

Then, too, Chatham led the shortstop in hitting with a mark of .299. He was well below Rodds, leading shortstop in fielding. But his fielding will be good enough to land him ahead of such players as Roussoule, Cain, Lee and Willett.

Lipscomb handled 716 chances as he batted at a percentage of .951. He would be pretty hard to replace as a B player.

MORE DEBUNKING.

There simply is no reason for placing Lipscomb under a psychological handicap. He did well enough last year and it is reasonable to assume that he will improve in 1936.

The same applies to Chatham, who played part of the season with a knee injury. They form a pretty good keystroke combination as it stands.

President Mann's first fan letter also proffered an opening day crowd of 25,000 which the seating arrangements were improved.

It's the club's goal and is quite possible of attainment.

Magnificent Obsession Is Held at Fox Theater

Because of capacity audiences the Fox theater has extended the playing of Irene Dunne in "Magnificent Obsession" through Thursday. Irene Dunne gives a superb performance, similar to that of "Back Street," however, without unnecessary suffering and a much better ending. The cast was carefully picked and the direction under John M. Stahl was perfectly handled.

To this writer, Miss Dunne's portrayal in this picture is by far greater than that of "Back Street." Robert Taylor, one of the most interesting of the newer players, does himself proud as the worthless grandson of a wealthy man, who later reforms after having met Miss Dunne. They meet, fall in love, then a number of unusual circumstances occur which lead to an unusual but pleasant climax.

The simplicity with which it is handled should go down as another directorial achievement for Director John M. Stahl.

This picture should rank at the top as one of the outstanding successes of 1936.

Other players in the cast include Ralph Morgan, who plays a simple country boy; it well; Beryl Mercer, Lucien Littlefield and the ever-popular Charles Butterworth.

There is also a cartoon and the usual news.—S. C.

Eleanor Terhune Is in Queen's Court In Harlequin Ball in New Orleans

By Sally Forth.

CARNIVAL balls are the topic of conversation "down in New Orleans," and Eleanor Terhune took a prominent part in a recent Harlequin ball, in which Winifred Safford ruled as "Queen of the Moon." Eleanor has been a great social favorite ever since she went to New Orleans last spring, and she was one of the most attractive maidens in the queen's court. The ball was given in the municipal auditorium and a miniature parade preceded the gala event, in which six small floats depicted sacred elephants, golden dolphins and green serpents. After the parade, the auditorium was darkened and the curtain parted on the stage to reveal a deep-set forest, and two slaves who carried torches of fire to the center of the dimly-lit stage.

Eleanor is an intimate friend of Winifred Safford, who chose her to serve as a maid in her moon court, which was called "Cambodia, Country of the Moon." Eleanor wore a Grecian-draped silk jersey skirt of bright Barbara-blue, edged with jade green and bordered in silver lame. The bodice was of white moire, with silver cordings on the Cambodian epaulets. Eleanor wore more than a dozen silver bracelets on each arm, and her turquoise blue scarf was striped with silver lame. Her spectacular headdress, which towered above her blond tresses, was trimmed with blue and green and turquoise blue taffeta flowers.

The moon queen wore a white moire mantle embroidered in silver sequins, accented with pearls and bound with silver lame. Her robe was of turquoise and silver cloth, featuring a wide silver corded band at the waist and a peplum of silver leaves. Heavy silver fringe ornamented the bottom of the skirt, and the silver headdress was trimmed with pearls and sapphires.

It really was quite an honor for an out-of-town girl to be invited to serve as a maid to the moon queen, and Eleanor's friends are justly proud of her. Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt Terhune and their daughters, Eleanor and Elise, have resided in New Orleans ever since last spring, and have made quite a favorable impression in their adopted city located on the Mississippi river.

HE IS one of Atlanta's most popular and attractive bachelors, the dark and handsome type, and a wonderful dancer. He plans to visit Miami this month and amid his plans is the memory of a pretty blonde who resides there and with whom he had many good times during his last visit. He sent her a Christmas card and added: "I'll be down January 17. Please save me a date for that night."

He mailed the card on his way to the office one morning. She'd be so pleased, thought he, to hear from him, and about that date. He was in a gay mood all day, and why not? What could anyone anticipate that could lessen his anticipation of the date with the blonde under the tropical Miami sky? When he returned to his home that evening, among his mail were quantities of Christmas cards, but one, postmarked Miami, received first-hand attention. It was from her, but not a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. It was an announcement of her marriage, which had occurred the week before!

MRS. NORMAN PETERS, the former Ruth Chamberlain of Atlanta, values the handsome colonial-wrought andirons gracing her magnificent winter home in Miami among her most treasured possessions. Not only because of their beauty does Mrs. Peters cherish the irons but for the fact that they were made by Georgia's mountain children.

Although it has been a number of years since Mrs. Peters resided in Georgia, her interest in this state has continued. She has shown a great interest in the Tallulah Falls school and last winter she opened her palatial Miami home for one of the most brilliant social affairs given during the season for benefit of the school in the north Georgia mountains.

The andirons were given Mrs. Peters by her sister, Mrs. Virginia Chamberlain Freigh, who is president of the Tallulah Falls School Circle in Miami. The circle was organized by Mrs. T. T. Stevens, another Atlantan whose interests in the Georgia mountain school has never diminished despite the fact that she spends the majority of her time in the Florida city.

Tuesday is Fashion Day at Rich's - Models in the Tea Room from 12 to 2

My Day

By

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Having left Washington on the midnight train after the judicial re-ception, I found myself back in New York again in the morning, and ate my breakfast alone quite peacefully. I had come to attend a meeting of the Chi Omega Achievement Award Committee.

This committee awards a prize every year to the woman who is outstanding in some field. Cecilia Beaux, Frances Perkins and Josephine Roche already have received this award. In June an award will be made at the society's convention when it meets at White Sulphur Springs.

Accidents and colds have somewhat reduced the number of our committee, but recommendations were in, and we were able to do our work and then have a pleasant hour of chat over our luncheon.

After that I started on a round of visits—my husband's mother and his aunt, Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, an old friend. Finally I picked up one of my friends and started to walk downtown via First Avenue. We went pretty fast but I was occasionally amused to see a light of recognition in someone's eyes as we walked past.

The three workmen going home from work and gazing idly as passersby suddenly gave me a fixed stare. One of them said, "That's her."

I gathered that this meant that he had decided that either my companion, or I, was a familiar sight and did not require any further designation!

Home again and a quiet tea and a long talk with Miss Helen Ferris, of the Junior Literary Guild, about children's books. She left one with me to read and it promises to be a most delightful story for any older child or parents.

In the evening Mrs. Henry Morgenthau Jr. and I went to see "Libel." It is remarkable that a court scene can sustain interest right through three acts, but it certainly does, and is well acted. We both enjoyed it very much, but were a little disappointed in the ending.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column, correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I suppose I have most of the things to make a girl happy—a husband, a home, and two or three nice eyebrows—but money. But I never get to have any fun. When the housework is done the children need attention. At night there is nobody to stay with them so I don't get out of the house from one day's end to another. Some think I would have been better off if I had married my husband and my children, but I do get down-hearted when I hear of my old crowd having such a good time while I am cook and nurse. Please help me.

DISCOURAGED.

Answer: Nobody has ever yet discovered the way to keep cake and eat it, too. You have tried. Maybe you can get some comfort from the thought that all over the land there are thousands of young wives in your fix. If misery loves company, you have it. Certainly you can wring some comfort from the thought that having had your children, you are young, they will grow before you are old and you will have opportunity to enjoy yourself later. You are missing the gay good times that your crowd is having now, but this is what you traded for love, marriage and motherhood. And after all, it didn't come out the little end of the horn, surely you wouldn't swap your husband and babies for a few parties, or swap your security for any fleeting pleasure.

In the natural course of events you will get married and leave home. When that time comes you will be glad that your father is settled and that you are not leaving him to a desolate old age. So forget yourselves for the moment, think about him and you will discover that he will love you the more for your consideration and do all he can to soften the blow.

Group That Settled There in 1868 Carved Niche in Wilderness To Create New Homes; Ex-Slaves Form Colony of Their Own

This is the 65th of a series of articles on South American travel by the Rev. Henry Edward Russell, of McDonough.—Editor's Note.

NEAR CILLOS, Sao Paulo, Brazil, Nov. 23.—Today we came to the home of one of the southerners who came to Brazil in 1868. Mr. L. K. Bookwalter, the daughter of James William Miller and Sarah Boyd McGill, of near Chester, S. C. She is one of the original emigrants of this locality. For years the principal if not the only scientific farming done in this country was done by those who got their ideas from the United States, and gradually these methods were assimilated by the Brazilians. The difference is unmistakable when one observes a crop that is cultivated with only a hoe or at best with a crude plank-like plow drawn by oxen and the deeply turned and well laid off fields of this region.

Hardships in Wilderness.

She began to relate events to us as we sat around a table in her living room. Outside a gentle breeze rustled the leaves of the stately palms that swayed in the starlight. Inside the lamplight fell on the silvery hair. She was ten years old when she finally left to come to Brazil independently of her grandfather. Her mother died in the same year.

Her grandfather, Mr. McGill, who stated that he could not understand why two people will take a half-grown family to a heathen land.

At that time there were only three steamers running to South America, the North America, the South America and the Argentina. Her month was required for the passage.

On Christmas Day they landed in Rio de Janeiro, which she described as being then "a horrid dirty place."

Arriving at their present location they proceeded to establish a home in what was then a wilderness. Hardships, indeed, were there for all, especially for the women and children. Ox carts followed the trail that they had used on horseback and brought their furniture and other belongings. Not only were they in the midst of a strange people that spoke an unknown tongue but, this people who spoke it, had no taste for sandwiches, jellied dishes or creamed combinations to be served in patties or croutades.

Cook Whole Tongue.

Buy a whole tongue, beef, pork, or lamb, according to the size family you wish to serve. If you like a frankfurter, the tongue is the best meat which has numerous possibilities for home use.

It may be that many women feel that tongue is difficult to cook or that a whole tongue is more than her small family can eat. As to the cooking, you'll find with your first trial that it is no trick at all. Nor will you find it necessary to add water for the left-over tongue is always in demand for sandwiches, jellied dishes or creamed combinations to be served in patties or croutades.

Sliced cold tongue or cold tongue sandwiches are great favorites but if you wish a more elaborate way in which to use left-over tongue, then many recipes from which you may choose. Here are a few choice ones for you to try.

Cold Tongue With Fresh Asparagus.

Cold sliced tongue, 2 medium bunches asparagus, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup butter, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, toast triangles, radish, parsley.

Asparagus and tongue are the only things added to the cooking water.

Many people like to add a few bay leaves and some whole cloves to the cooking water for added flavor.

BLOTHES

Blothes, bumps and other dislocations are quickly cleared up with Black and White Ointment. Trial size 10c. Large can 25c. Use with Black and White Skin Soap for best results.

BlackDraught's Good Reputation

The confidence people have in Black-Draught, built up from satisfactory use so many years, is shown in its being handed on from one generation to another. It must be good to have such a strong following.

Here is a typical reference to Black-Draught by a satisfied user: "We have used Black-Draught for twenty years," writes Mr. Fred Richardson, of Harthorne, Okla. "My mother has used it for fifty years. It is the best medicine I know anything about. I take it for sour stomach and constipation, or when I feel sluggish and bad. Black-Draught is splendid to regulate the bowels, cleansing them of waste matter, ridding them of constipation. I expect to use it twenty-five more years if I live and it gives satisfaction as it has always given." (adv.)

A Bleach Cream That Does More Than Bleach

With increasing years, one's skin becomes stale, discolored and wrinkled, and loses its freshness, due to sun, wind, air and dirt from without, and constant chemical changes from within, developing a coarser texture, large pores, blackheads, pimples, freckles and other surface spots. The only way these beauties marring defects can be satisfactorily overcome, such as a basic skin treatment, such as Golden Peacock Bleach Cream.

Golden Peacock Bleach Cream is not a "cover-up" cosmetic, but a basic, penetrating skin treatment (the formula of one of the most able Cosmetic Chemists in the United States)

Georgia Baptist Hospital Auxiliary Officers Installed

The Georgia Baptist Hospital Auxiliary elected and installed officers at the meeting last Friday at the nurses home. The impressive installation exercise was conducted by Rev. J. F. Eden, chaplain of the hospital. Officers installed were: W. Atwry, president; J. M. Wright, first vice president; Lester Brown, second vice president; J. J. Hempey, third vice president; A. B. Couch, secretary; Dorsey Smith, assistant secretary; J. W. Dahlhouse, corresponding secretary; D. Barker, treasurer; J. L. Bolling, assistant treasurer; M. L. Beece, pianist; J. L. Jackson, music; L. M. Sheffield, assistant; Miss Julia Sparks, publicity; W. N. Baldwin, sewing.

In her acceptance of the leadership for another year, Mrs. Atwry told a few of the officers that the auxiliary had accomplished during the past year, stressing the work in the children's ward where a number of needy children had been helped. The auxiliary raised over $3,000 during the year.

The new reception room to be furnished by the auxiliary on the third floor of the hospital was dedicated for Superintendent and Mrs. Barker. A rising vote of thanks and appreciation was given Superintendent and Mrs. Barker for their untiring efforts in behalf of the hospital. In the absence of Superintendent Barker, Mrs. Barker thanked the auxiliary.

Father Eric, pastor of the nurses' home, thanked the organization for the Christmas party and tree provided for the nurses. Miss Blanche Sims, acting superintendent of nurses in the absence of Miss Nancy Jenkins, reported for the hospital.

Former Atlantan and Son Visit Relatives Here

Miss Carlie Edna Karston Weds Lester E. Bush, Washington, D. C.

A marriage characterized by dignity and beauty was that of Miss Carlie Edna Karston and Lester Earl Bush, of Washington, D. C., which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Karston, a graduate of Eastern Illinois University, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Karston, on Franklin street. Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge officiated.

The altar, composed of palms and ferns, was arranged in the living room, and was flanked on either side by cathedral candelabra holding white tapers, and starred in the center with a basket filled with Easter lilies. Wedding ribbon formed the aisle.

The bride, dressed in a white gown with lace trim, wore a lace veil and a white lace headband. Her accessories were of brown and gardenias and white lilies.

After the ceremony a musical program was rendered by a string quintet composed of William H. Chase, Whitmey W. Hubner, Walter Sheets, Raymond Thompson and William O. Matthiessen. Miss Sam Lee sang "Sweet Song of Life" and "At the River." The string quartet was kept by Miss Evelyn Lee.

The bride's sister, Mrs. J. Russell Atkins, was matron of honor and was attractively gowned in pink, blue velvet, worn with black suede and accents.

By FRANK MACMILLIN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(P)—Two important supreme court decisions failed today to throw the stock market off balance.

Prices ended on an upward slant, with rails in active demand. Throughout the session the market had been orderly and rather narrow.

Activity was restricted during most of the day, although the late buying in rails caused the tape to slip a minute or so behind around the finish.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1 of a point at 57.55, edging into new 1935-36 high ground.

The 15 rails in the compilation gave it its principal buoyancy with an advance of .5 of a point a new top, which was a year at 32.4.

The 15 utilities were .2 of a point improved while the 30 industrials slipped back as much.

Power and light shares were leaders in early dealings with advances of a point or so common in active issues. Traders seemed to lose interest, and initial gains were mostly erased later when there was apparent that the market was not yet ready to render its TVA judgment.

The trading pace was ambling most of the day. Turnover in the stock exchange, to 2,590,250 shares, was the smallest for a five-hour session since January 2.

Several packing stocks were low and moderately active, both before and after the high court's ruling which decreased the return to processors of some $200,000,000 of levies which have been held in escrow by the courts.

Cotton sagged around $1 a bare for the time in the day but, following the dismissal by the court of the case involving the Bankhead cotton act for lack of jurisdiction, the fiber came back to close 5 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher.

Grains were reactionary. Wheat futures at Chicago were unchanged to off 1 cent a bushel at the finish, while corn lost 1-4 to 7-8 of a cent.

The weekly estimate of the American and Canadian grain and oilseed production for the country at 49.4 per cent of capacity, compared with 49.2 per cent in the previous week, most steel issues were steady to a bit lower. Bethlehem lost a point at 52 1-4 while United States Steel was a shade down at 48 1-2.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN. NO. 14

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan was anxious to be accepted as the embodiment of an immortal spirit, for that fitted in with his plans to solve the mystery of the Talomed Death. But Sobito, the witch-doctor, scowled. He felt it would not be good business to admit too much credence in a miracle not of his own making.

With a ridiculous frown, designed to frighten and impress, the puffing little witch-doctor prepared to denounce the stranger. Meanwhile, Nkima the monkey, who hated and feared all men except Tarzan, hurried the vilest jungle invective at the blacks, boasting of what he would do if he got hold of them.

From his haven of safety, Nkima challenged them singly and on mass, knowing of course that his words would not be understood. The ape-man, trained in the stern school of the jungle, was not given to mirth. But when he heard Nkima's boastful defiance of the blacks, his lips parted in laughter.

Sobito believed the stranger was laughing at him. Fury surged within him. Some of the blacks who had suffered from his tyranny were secretly pleased at his discomfiture and were grateful to the white man. But the witch-doctor fumed and stormed: "You are not Musimo! I will expose you!"
